Liberty County Emergency Management Agency is a unit of the county government with the lead role in preparing for and responding to major emergencies and disasters, both natural and manmade.

LCEMA is the local community based equivalent of the Georgia Emergency Management Agency (GEMA) at the state level and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) at the federal level, working closely with these agencies (as well as dozens of others, both public and private) before, during, and after emergencies and disasters to provide coordinated and comprehensive protection of lives and property. This is accomplished by providing community wide leadership, guidance, support, and coordination in the area of mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery.
